Help Desk

ITS provides a number of support options to students, faculty and staff. These include assistance through email, by phone or in person. Often, help can be found by checking out our FAQs [1] or our documentation [2].

ITS has created a single User Services team to provide hardware and software support services for all campus constituents. Previously, there were multiple groups within ITS that provided support based on whether you were in an academic department or an administrative department. The new User Services team has consolidated those groups with the intent on providing consistent hardware and software support across campus.
